proportionate and necessary to:

identifiable person, where the amount of force used is proportional to the threat of imminent harm to the identifiable person;

   (2) effect an arrest of a person whom the law enforcement officer has probable cause to believe has committed a criminal offense; or person whom the law enforcement officer has probable cause to legitimate law enforcement objective. A law enforcement officer shall immediately modulate the use of physical force as the threat diminishes and shall cease the use of physical force

A law enforcement officer's failure to use feasible alternatives to the use of force shall be a consideration in determining whether the use of force was justified.

G. A law enforcement officer shall not discharge any firearm into or at a fleeing motor vehicle, unless, based on the totality of the circumstances and after exhausting reasonable and available de-escalation tactics and techniques, such discharge is necessary to prevent an imminent death or serious physical injury to an identifiable person and the discharge is proportional to the threat of imminent harm to an identifiable person. A.
