COMMITTEES (cont.)

9-13-3 To initiate any action on alleged misconduct, any member of the senate may file a written, sworn complaint. The complaint shall set forth, with specificity, the facts alleged to constitute unethical conduct. A complaint shall be filed with the chairman of the senate ethics committee during a session. Upon receipt of the complaint, the chairman shall notify the majority and minority floor leaders. The majority and minority floor leaders shall select from the senate ethics committee an equal number of members from each party to serve as a subcommittee to investigate the allegations of unethical conduct and to determine if probable cause exists to believe that a violation of law or the ethics rules has occurred. The chairman of the senate ethics committee shall chair the subcommittee. The subcommittee shall submit a written report of its findings of fact, together with its determination of probable cause regarding the alleged unethical conduct to the full committee. The committee shall then hold such hearings as it deems necessary, and the hearings shall be quasi-judicial in nature, subject to applicable rules of procedure and evidence as determined by the committee. Legal counsel may be authorized to advise the committee and subcommittee. The committee, however, shall take no action on matter at issue in a pending criminal proceeding in which a senator is a defendant until either the criminal proceeding is dismissed or a decision no longer subject to appeal has been issued.

A senator against whom a complaint is filed shall immediately be given a copy of the complaint. A senator whose conduct is under inquiry shall be accorded due process, including the right to a hearing and the right to subject all of the witnesses to cross-examination. The burden of proof shall be set by clear and convincing evidence. The full committee shall after notice and hearing make recommendations regarding the alleged unethical conduct to the senate. The committee is authorized to award attorneys' fees to the senator against whom a complaint for unethical conduct is filed if the committee determines that the complaint filed against the senator was frivolous. If such an award is made, the fees shall be paid by the senator who filed the frivolous complaint. Further, such a determination will be grounds for a recommendation to the full senate that the complainant be subjected to the same disciplinary action as provided under Senate Rules 9-13-4 and 9-13-5. The senate may take whatever action it deems appropriate upon the recommendation of the committee.

A senator against whom no complaint has been filed, but whose conduct is being questioned by a member of the senate, may request and shall be afforded a hearing for the purpose of presenting exculpatory evidence or testimony. If the request is made to the president pro tempore in the interim, the hearing shall be convened no later than the first full week of the next session. [1/21/92]

9-13-4 After an investigation has been completed, the complaint shall be dismissed or the committee shall recommend that:

- (a) a letter of reprimand be issued;
- (b) the senator be censured; or
- (c) the senator be expelled.

A letter of reprimand requires a majority vote of those present.

A vote of censure requires a majority vote of those elected. A senator may be expelled by a two-third vote of the elected members of the senate. [1/21/92]

9-13-5 A reprimand is appropriate for violations of Senate Rule 26-1. A censure is appropriate for repeated or flagrant violations of Senate Rule 26-1. A senator who is censured shall not serve in any leadership position and shall not serve as the chairman or co-chairman of any standing or interim legislative committee for the remainder of that senator's pending term in office.

9-13-6 A. The committee and subcommittee shall maintain the following rules of confidentiality unless the senator against whom the complaint is filed waives these rules in writing:

(1) the committee and subcommittee and its staff shall not disclose any information relating to the investigation of a complaint, including the identity of the complainant and respondent, until after the subcommittee has made its determination of probable cause and report to the full committee, except that the committee or subcommittee may release information at any time if the release has been agreed to by the respondent;

(2) the identity of the complainant shall be released to the respondent immediately upon request; and

(3) no member of the committee or subcommittee or staff member of, or person under contract to, the committee may knowingly disclose any confidential information acquired in the course of official duties except the committee is authorized to disclose any information made public pursuant to the public hearing process.

B. The complainant may not disclose that a complaint has been filed, nor may he disclose any contents thereof during the initial probable cause proceedings unless such release is agreed to by the respondent.

C. A violation of the confidentiality provisions set out in this rule shall be grounds for a complaint being filed pursuant to the provisions of Senate Rule 9-13-3. [1/21/92]

9-13-7  (rule exists in house but not in senate)

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

- 10-1 When the senate resolves itself into the committee of the whole, the president pro tempore, or a senator designated by him or the senate, shall preside.
- 10-2 The rules of the senate shall be observed in the committee of the whole, so far as they may be applicable, except limiting the number of times of speaking, that yeas and nays shall not be taken and that only three minutes shall be allowed to any member for the purpose of explaining his vote. When the committee of the whole is engaged in the investigation of any charges against any of its members, the rules of the senate shall apply.
- 10-3 Bills committed to the committee of the whole shall be read by sections in that committee. The bill shall be read by the clerk and debated by clauses or parts, leaving the preamble to be considered last. The body of the bill shall not be defaced or interlined, but all amendments noting the page and lines shall be duly entered by the clerk on a separate paper, as the same shall be agreed to by the committee and so reported back to the senate. The report shall state whether or not the bill has been amended in the committee of the whole. The committee of the whole may strike out the enacting clause of a bill and report that fact to the senate. If that report is agreed to by the senate, it shall be deemed a rejection of the bill.
- 10-4 A motion that the committee of the whole rise and report progress on any bill shall always be decided without debate.
- 10-5 The matters referred to the committee of the whole senate constitute the general orders, and the business of the general orders shall be governed by the purposes indicated in the motion, viz:

When the president pro tempore, or the chairman named by him or by the senate, has taken the chair, the clerk shall announce the title of each bill, with the printed number, or other matter, and it shall be reached in its order when it may be considered immediately; and so on until the general order calendar is exhausted, or a motion is carried that the committee rise.

BILLS

- 11-1 No law shall be passed except by bill, and no bill shall be so altered or amended on its passage through either house as to change its original purpose.
- 11-2 No bill except bills to provide for the public peace, health and safety, and the codification or revision of the laws, shall become a law unless it has been printed, and read three different times in each house, not more than two of which readings shall be on the same day, and the third of which shall be in full.
- 11-3 The enacting clause of all bills shall be: "BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO".
- 11-4 The subject of every bill shall be clearly expressed in its title, and no bill embracing more than one subject shall be passed, except general appropriation bills and bills for the codification or revision of the laws. General appropriation bills shall embrace nothing but appropriations for the expense of the executive, legislative and judicial departments, interest, sinking fund, payment of the public debt, public schools and other expenses required by existing laws. All other appropriations shall be made by separate bills.
- 11-5 No law shall be revised or amended, or the provisions thereof, extended, by reference to its title only; but each section thereof as revised, amended or extended shall be set out in full, and each section so set out in a separate section of the amending act.
- 11-6 If any bill makes an appropriation or carries an emergency clause, the fact shall be stated in the title. Examples:

MAKING AN APPROPRIATION

DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

BILLS (cont.)

- 11-7 Bills shall be divided, where divisions and subdivisions are necessary, into sections, subsections, paragraphs and subparagraphs. Subparagraphs may contain items. These divisions shall be designated and the first line of each indented in the following manner:

Section 1.

A. (Subsection)

(1) (Paragraph)

(a) (Subparagraph), containing 1) (Items).

A section is the only division which carries the word designating its rank.

- 11-8 The statutory citation, in any bill amending or repealing any existing statute, shall refer first to the section of the official compilation, if compiled, and then to the original session law in parentheses. If the original session law has been amended, this fact should be stated.
- 11-9 Every bill shall be introduced by a senator in his place, or on the report of a committee, or by message from the house of representatives, which message shall be announced at the door of the senate.
- 11-9-1 Every bill, resolution or memorial introduced in the senate by a senator shall be endorsed by the senator sponsoring the bill, resolution or memorial and by each senator co-sponsoring the bill, resolution or memorial. [1/28/99]

- 11-10 Every bill when introduced, and every amendment thereafter made to such bill, amending existing law by the addition and deletion of language, must have all new matter underscored, and must have all materials intended to be deleted set forth in brackets, but the judiciary committee shall delete all bracketed material and shall omit the brackets and underscoring from the enrolled and engrossed bill. In a printed bill, such new matter shall be similarly set out or set out in italics or boldface type. When a printed bill is amended by eliminating new matter from such bill, the same shall be omitted in the reprint of the original. It is the duty of each committee to cause any bill referred to the committee and not complying with this rule to be immediately corrected so as to comply with the same and reprinted if the committee feels that such printing would be helpful to the understanding of the bill.
- 11-11 Each bill, resolution and memorial when prefiled or introduced shall be accompanied by one copy thereof. [2/12/06]
- 11-12 Each bill, resolution and memorial when prefiled or introduced shall be sent to the chief clerk's desk to be taken up in the order in which it was prefiled or introduced, unless the senate directs otherwise. [2/12/06]
- 11-12-1 A senator may prefile legislation by depositing it with the chief clerk during regular business hours between December 15 and the Friday before a regular session begins. The chief clerk shall log and number prefiled legislation in the order in which it is received. Prefiled legislation shall be publicly available. Prefiled legislation shall be introduced and referred to committee on the first day of the regular session. [1/16/07]
- 11-13 Upon introduction, each bill, resolution and memorial shall be read the first and second time by its title, unless reading in full is demanded by any senator. The president shall make announcement of each such reading of the bill. No bill shall be amended or committed until it has been read twice.

- 11-14 At the time of second reading, or any time thereafter, each bill shall be referred by the senate to a standing committee, a select committee or the committee of the whole; provided, however, that upon every bill, resolution or memorial introduced by any senator, such senator shall endorse the name of the appropriate committee to which the bill, resolution or memorial should be referred. The endorsement shall be as follows: "Referred to the . . . Committee". Should objection be made to the reference so endorsed, the senate shall determine the committee to which such bill, resolution or memorial shall be referred. No bill shall be referred to more than two standing committees except upon two-thirds vote of the members present; provided, however, that a referral to the finance committee shall not be considered a committee referral within the two committee limitation. [1/17/89]
- 11-14-1 All bills, resolutions and memorials received from the house of representatives, after they have been read a first and second time, shall be referred to such committee as may be designated by the senate.
- 11-14-2 When any bill concerning any subject matter for which an appropriation is therein sought to be levied has been referred to the committee to which bills of such subject matter properly should be referred, such bill when reported in by such committee, unless the report is unfavorable to its passage, shall automatically be referred to the finance committee for its consideration.
- 11-15 Following second reading, the bill shall be printed in English and a printed copy supplied to each senator.
- 11-16 Each bill, memorial and resolution shall retain its original printed number during all stages of its progress.
- 11-17 [Identical bill substitution rule deleted 1/17/89 by floor action.]

BILLS (cont.)

- 11-18 After the committee to which a bill has been referred has reported the bill back to the senate, or at any time before its approval by the senate, the bill may be recommitted to a committee at the pleasure of the senate.
- 11-18-1  (rule exists in house but not in senate)
- 11-19 Every report of a committee upon a bill, which is not considered at the time of making the report or is not laid upon the table by vote of the senate, shall stand upon the calendar with the bill and be entered upon the journal.
- 11-19-1  (rule exists in house but not in senate)
- 11-20 When a bill, resolution or memorial is reported by a committee, the question before the senate shall be: "Shall the report be adopted?".
- 11-20-1 If the committee report is favorable and the senate adopts the committee report, the bill, resolution or memorial shall be placed upon the calendar to be taken up on third reading in its regular order.
- 11-20-2 If the committee report is favorable and the senate does not adopt the committee report, the bill, resolution or memorial is deemed lost.
- 11-20-3 If the committee report is unfavorable and the senate adopts the committee report, the bill, resolution or memorial is deemed lost.
- 11-20-4 If the committee report is unfavorable and the senate does not adopt the committee report, the bill, resolution or memorial shall be placed on the calendar, or if the bill, resolution or memorial has received another committee referral, it shall be referred to such other committee.

- 11-21 Committee reports on a bill, resolution or memorial shall be prepared in an original and five copies, the original to be attached to the bill, resolution or memorial, and the other copies to go to the chief clerk of the senate for distribution.
- 11-22 The calendar of bills on the order of third reading shall consist of all bills which have been reported by a committee and which are not deemed lost by action of the senate pursuant to Rules 11-20-2 and 11-20-3. The calendar of third reading shall also consist of all bills which have been ordered placed on the calendar by a vote of the senate, and also all bills from the house of representatives which having passed the senate have been subsequently reconsidered upon recall from the governor and thereupon amended by the house.
- 11-22-1 All bills whether reported in by a committee or ordered placed upon the calendar by vote of the senate and on order of third reading shall be placed on the daily printed calendar in their regular order.
- 11-22-2 No bill shall be read a third time out of its order, unless on a vote of a majority of all the senators present; and all resolutions which propose any amendment to the constitution or ratify any proposed amendment to the United States constitution shall be treated in the form of proceedings on them in the same manner as bills.
- 11-22-3 When a bill is taken up on third reading, the merits of the bill may be debated and a motion to commit or recommit, or to amend, or to lay on the table, or to postpone to a future date shall be in order.
- 11-22-4  (rule exists in house but not in senate)

- 11-23 Floor amendments shall be prepared for submission with an original and five copies. If time does not allow submission in the required number, then, as soon as possible, the chief clerk shall have the amendment prepared in the required form, submit the original amendment and the typed copy to the member submitting the amendment for his approval and signature, and attach it to the bill or other document, in the place of the amendment submitted. The chief clerk shall keep the amendment submitted for the inspection of the judiciary committee.
- 11-23-1 Floor substitutes may be offered at any time when a bill or resolution is open to amendment previous to being enrolled or engrossed; and when adopted, shall take the place of the original bill or resolution and shall be open to amendment. [1/17/89]
- 11-24 If on taking the question on final passage on the bill, it shall appear that a constitutional quorum is not present, or if the bill requires an extraordinary majority of all the senators elected to pass it, and it appears that such number is not present, the bill shall retain its place on the calendar and be again taken up in its regular order.
- 11-24-1 The question on the final passage of every bill, resolution and memorial shall be taken by yeas and nays, which shall be entered upon the journal and, within one day of taking the question, be publicly available on the legislature's internet web site, effective January 15, 2008. [3/14/07]
- 11-24-2 Except in cases provided for in Rule 11-24, the bill on final passage shall be declared lost unless it receives the number of votes required by the constitution to pass it.
- 11-24-3 The question on the final passage on the bill shall be taken immediately after the third reading and without debate.

- 11-24-4 If on the final passage of a bill carrying an emergency clause the bill receives a favorable vote of a simple majority but not of the required two-thirds of the members present, the action shall constitute an automatic deletion of the emergency clause and reference to it in the title. Pursuant to this rule, the chief clerk shall attach a statement to the bill describing the words and lines so deleted.
- 11-24-5 When any legislation requiring the concurrence of an extraordinary majority of the senators is under consideration, such concurrence shall not be requisite except on the question of final passage.
- 11-25 Immediately after the passage in both houses of any bill, resolution or memorial which originated in the senate, or any substitute for legislation which substitute originated in the senate, it shall be enrolled and engrossed by the senate, and thereupon read publicly in full and signed by the presiding officer of the senate in open session. The fact of such reading and signing shall be entered in the journal. Every interlineation or erasure shall be publicly announced in the senate by the presiding officer and entered in the journal.
- 11-26 Time limitation on the introduction of bills at any session of the legislature shall be as established by law.
- 11-27 One capital outlay expenditures bill will be introduced and one general obligation bond bill may be introduced in the senate. The bills will be referred to the senate finance committee. Except as provided in this rule, any other request by a senator to appropriate money for capital outlay projects shall be submitted as a capital outlay request prepared by the legislative council service. Signed and numbered capital outlay requests shall be read into the journal and referred to the senate finance committee for consideration for inclusion in a capital outlay expenditures bill or a general obligation bond bill; provided, capital outlay requests may be referred also to the senate Indian and cultural affairs committee for its consideration and recommendation. A capital outlay request may be made by bill if there is broad legislative interest in both houses in the matter or if referral to several committees is desirable. All such bills must be referred to the committees' committee for a determination that the bill meets such criteria. Capital outlay requests will be treated as amendments, but shall be subject to the limitations for the introduction of bills in Section 2-6-1 NMSA 1978 and Joint Rule 10-1. [1/22/01]

PRECEDENCE OF MOTIONS

MOTION TO ADJOURN OR RECESS

- 14-1 A motion to adjourn or recess shall be decided without debate; provided, however, that before any motion to adjourn or recess to a subsequent date is submitted to a vote, the presiding officer shall first inquire whether or not there are any announcements that any senator desires to make, and if any senator desires to make an announcement, he shall be permitted to do so before the motion to adjourn or recess is voted upon, but the senator shall not be permitted to debate any matter.
- 14-2 A motion to adjourn or to take a recess is always in order except after close of debate upon a pending motion or proposition and statement by the presiding officer of the motion or proposition to be voted upon and before such motion or proposition is voted upon, and the result has been declared by the presiding officer.
- 14-3 After a motion to adjourn has been made and declared lost, any other business, proposition or motion shall have preference before a second motion to adjourn can be recognized by the presiding officer.

- 20-2 The motion to close debate shall not be amendable or debatable and shall be immediately put.
- 20-3 If the motion to close debate receives an affirmative vote of a majority of the senators present, the pending measure shall take precedence over all other business. The vote shall thereupon be taken upon such bill, motion or resolution, with such amendments as may be pending at the time of such motion, according to the rules of the senate, but without further debate; provided the majority and minority shall be allowed thirty minutes each. [3/14/89]
- 20-4 After a motion to close debate has been made by any senator, no other motion shall be in order until the motion to close debate has been voted upon by the senate.

These rules may be amended at any time upon recommendation of the rules committee by a majority vote of the members of the senate and at all times upon a two-thirds vote of all the members of the senate. Senate rule changes shall not be in effect until the following legislative day unless otherwise ordered by a two-thirds vote of the members present. [1/21/97]

- 24-2 The rules and parliamentary practice as set forth in Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure shall govern the senate in all cases not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the senate.

WITNESSES

(3) a senator shall not receive compensation or reimbursement not authorized by law for rendering services, advice or assistance as a legislator;

(4) a senator shall not accept gifts, other than lawfully collected and reported campaign contributions, from persons affected by legislation or from persons who have an interest in a business affected by proposed legislation, where it is known or reasonably should be known that the purpose of the donor in making the gift is to influence the senator in the performance of his official duties or vote or is intended as a reward for action on his part;

(5) a senator shall not accept or engage in employment if the senator knows it is being afforded him with the intent to influence his conduct in the performance of his official duties.

JOINT SESSIONS

- 1-1 Whenever the two houses of the legislature meet in joint session, the proceedings shall be entered upon the journal of each house. The lieutenant governor or, in his absence, the president pro tempore shall preside over the joint session and the chief clerk of the house shall act as the clerk thereof. A majority of the elected members of each house shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; provided, that upon unanimous consent, the attendance roll calls of each house for that legislative day may be substituted for the roll call of the joint session. No bill shall be considered, debated or voted upon in a joint session.

JOINT HEARINGS

- 2-1 Joint hearings before the corresponding committees of the two houses may be held upon agreement between the chairmen of the two committees, who shall give reasonable notice to the members of their respective committees of the time and place of such hearings. Joint hearings shall take the place of separate hearings and shall be final unless the house where the bill is pending shall order a further hearing before its own committee. In joint hearings, the chairman of the committee having custody of the bill shall act as chairman and the chairman of the other house's committee shall act as vice chairman.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEES

- 3-1 If one house refuses to concur in the amendments made to its bill by the other house, the chief clerk shall notify the house making the amendments of that refusal to concur and ask that it recede from its amendments. If the amending house refuses to recede from its amendments, a conference committee, consisting of three members from each house, shall be appointed by the president pro tempore of the senate and the speaker of the house. The conference committee shall meet at a time to be mutually agreed upon by the committee members, and when agreement on the amendments in dispute has been reached, the members shall report to their respective houses, or if agreement has not been reached, they shall report that fact to their respective houses. No new item shall be presented as an amendment for inclusion in the conference committee report unless the item has been the subject of a legislative committee hearing during the session. Voting in the conference committee shall be by the respective houses, and a majority of the membership from each house is required for adoption of a recommendation. The report of the conference committee shall not be subject to amendment in either house. The report of the conference committee shall always be in order except during a roll call or when a question of order or a motion to adjourn is pending.
