Bill Summary:

HB 192 amends the Public School Finance Act to allow all “licensed school employees” certified by the National Board of Professional Teaching Standards (NBPTS) to be eligible receive a one-time salary differential equal to 1.5 times the unit value set for the school year.

Fiscal Impact:

HB 192 does not contain an appropriation.

Fiscal Issues:

According to the data from the Public Education Department (PED), 453 NBPTS teachers were provided a one-time salary differential for school year 2011-2012. At 1.5 times the unit value for that school year, each teacher received $5,398.45 based on the following calculation.

$$1.5 \times $3,598.97 \text{ (2011-2012 unit value)} = $5,398.45$$

As a result, the State Equalization Guarantee distributed $2.45 million for eligible NBPTS teachers for that school year.

According to the NBPTS website, in school year 2011-2012, 769 individuals in New Mexico were NBPTS certified. This total may include other licensed school employees such as principals, assistant principals, school counselors, and other certified staff that are currently not eligible to receive the one-time salary differential.
