SUMMARY

Synopsis of Memorial

Senate Memorial 83 resolves New Mexico State University be encouraged to collaborate in the National Science Foundation's Engineering Research Center's (NSFERC) re-inventing the nation's urban water infrastructure to address the increasingly critical water management and technology needs of the state.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS

The memorial has no appropriation and NMSU will have to determine the extent of its participation and whether funds are available.

SIGNIFICANT ISSUES

NMSU is a partner institution in NSFERC efforts collaborating with Stanford University, the University of California at Berkeley and the Colorado School of Mines in determining ways to manage urban water infrastructures to use technology to enable productive, sustainable development of water resources.
