Native American Community Academy
Where Education, Community, and Culture Come Together

To engage students, educators, families, and community in creating a school that will prepare our students to grow from adolescence to adulthood and begin strengthening communities by developing strong leaders who are academically prepared, secure in their identity and healthy.

NACA Core Values

Respect – Having concern for harmonious relationships; honoring yourself, your peers, your family, your elders, your ancestors, your teachers, your school, your community, your tribe/nation. Having courteous regard for others' feelings and values. Respect helps people get along better with each other.

Responsibility – We are responsible to our People; past, present and future, as well as our environment and other living things. Being responsible is a form of trustworthiness; being accountable for your words, actions, and conduct in all that you do.

Community/Service – We belong to the NACA community as well as the communities of our neighborhoods, cities, pueblos, reservations and nations. This means that, along with rights, we have the responsibility to provide service to make our community a better place for all.

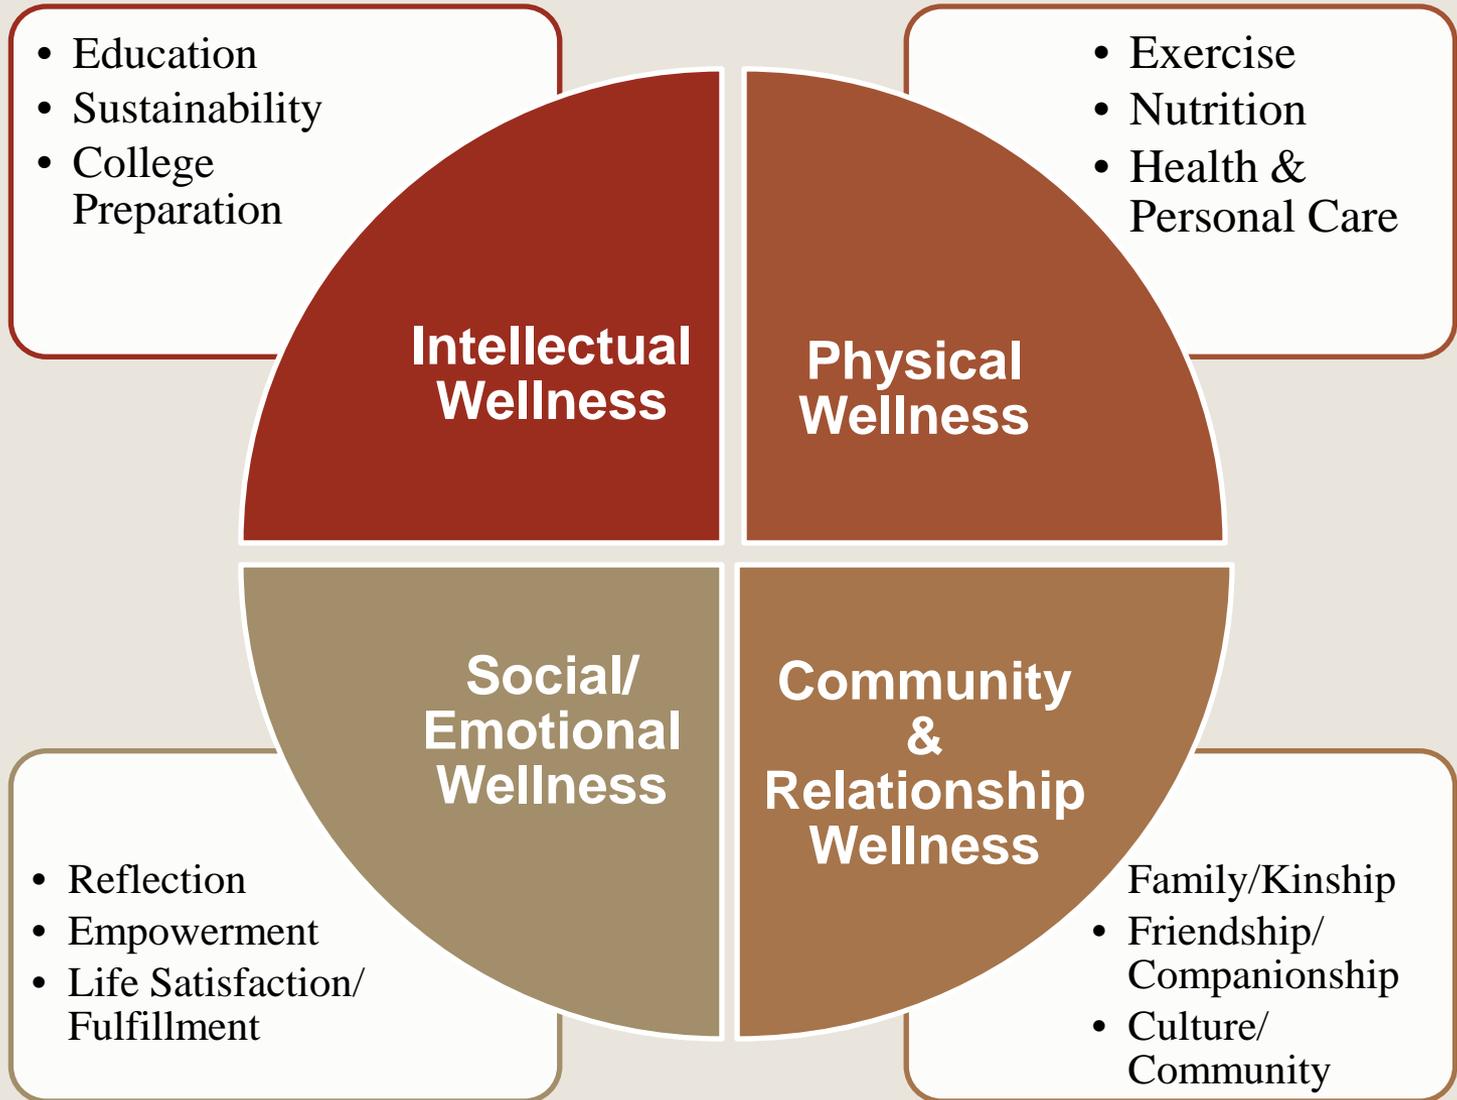

Culture – We honor and value our own cultures and those of others. We recognize we are influenced by many cultures, including Indigenous, youth, and contemporary western cultures and are mindful in how this impacts the development of identity.

Perseverance – Indigenous people have endured because of the perseverance and determination of those that came before. We make our ancestors proud by remaining constant to a purpose, idea or task in spite of obstacles. We engage our innate strengths and build relationships with others that support us in developing to our full potential.

Reflection – Indigenous thinking and learning is a reflective process involving a deliberate looking inward, self-awareness and contemplation of deeper meanings. We support this reflective practice to encourage thoughtfulness, personal growth, profound learning and meaningful change.

NACA Mission and History

NACA Element	What it looks like
Integration of Academic Excellence & Cultural Relevance	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Curriculum, pedagogy, and assessments satisfy Common Core standards and practices, with data-backed evaluation of outcomes• Education is done in whole or part using Indigenous Languages, or through Indigenous teaching practices (e.g. integrating geology curriculum with Native creation stories, impact of policy on tribes, impact of Ind.Ed)
Focus on holistic wellness	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Holistic Wellness Wheel used as a framework for students and staff to assess growth and set goals• Services, supports, and programs oriented around Intellectual, Spiritual, Physical, and Emotional Health• Respectful interaction between teachers & students sensitive to impact of boarding schools in Native communities due to colonization
Community Transformation	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• NACA is a key facilitator of connections within the community, creating and leading partnerships with organizations like the Indian Pueblo Cultural Center, UNM's NAS, SYS, Inc., AIO• NACA leads community events such as the NACA Feast day, Pow-wow and 1491s

... as well as a common teaching and learning framework

NACA Professional Development Framework

Curriculum: Encompasses Common Core State Standard skills with culturally relevant content and real-world application as a means to achieve Indigenous Perspectives.

Assessment: Student outcomes are judged at the end of each unit, and ultimately used to inform decisions about the future units of study.

Indigenous perspectives are integrated throughout the teaching and learning framework, ensuring a high level of consonance and meaning.

Instruction: Teachers use the Understanding by Design (UbD) framework, emphasizing student onus, questioning, and inquiry.

Professional development: Based on collaborative critique model emphasizing transparency, availability, and vulnerability in teachers' curriculum, assessments, and instruction.

Consequently, NISN schools are aligned through a common guiding philosophy and six commitments...
