SUMMARY

Synopsis of Bill

House Bill 431 would appropriate $45 thousand from the general fund to the Department of Health (DOH) in FY09 to contract with an organization that provides community education and wellness programs and to provide essential state services to citizens in the area of the Peñasco and Picuris Pueblo. Any unexpended funds at the end of the fiscal year shall revert to the general fund.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS

DOH notes that the funding in HB 431 is not a part of DOH's FY09 budget request.

SIGNIFICANT ISSUES

DOH notes that typically, the aim of community education and wellness programs is to support improved health and wellness for a community through the provision of evidence-based curricula on a variety of health-related topics. Projects might include promoting an active lifestyle within the community by providing a variety of classes and health screenings that promote early detection and intervention, and increasing awareness in the community of making positive choices to improve health.

The catchment area for services includes Picuris Pueblo and the 13 villages around the Pueblo. There are 4,000 people in a 900-square-mile area. According to the 2000 US Census, the American Indian population of Picuris Pueblo totaled 195 people, of whom 52 were under 18 years of age. The majority of the youth population (41%) in Picuris Pueblo is at 200% of the federal poverty level. (2005 New Mexico Kids Count Special Report on Native American Children in New Mexico)

Seven service providers currently offer community education and wellness programs in the vicinity of the Peñasco-Picuris area. For American Indian individuals who are served through the Indian Health Service (IHS), the closest service unit is the Santa Fe Service Unit, located 60 miles away. The closest Public Health Office (for residents who need medical services, immunizations, disease prevention, family planning, Women, Infant, and Children services, Children's Medical Services programming, and other services) is located in Taos, 25 miles away.

The school lunch program provides free or reduced lunches to at least 90 percent of the school population (of the Peñasco Independent School District). The area has a children's book lending library and a clothing distribution program that provides clothing to children in need (Carol Miller, personal communication, January 24, 2008).

The closest Income Support Division (ISD) office for clients who receive Medicaid for health insurance, Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, and other basic living services is also located in Taos. The Taos County ISD and Child Support Enforcement Division (CSED) office sends an employee once a month to enroll clients for Medicaid, TANF, child support, and other services, as needed. Some clients travel to Espanola for similar services (37 miles away).

DUPLICATION

House Bill 431 is duplicated by HB 366 and SB 435.
