SUMMARY

Synopsis of Bill

House Bill 575 appropriates $25,000 from the General Fund to the Board of Regents of New Mexico State University for the purpose of supporting the cooperative extension service 4-H youth development program in Lea County.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS

The appropriation of $25,000 contained in this bill is a recurring expense to the General Fund. Any unexpended or unencumbered balance remaining at the end of FY09 shall revert to the General Fund.

SIGNIFICANT ISSUES

NMSU indicates the funding will increase capacity and commitment to reach diverse youth audience with programs that develop life skills and supplement the local schools with curriculum that provides experiential educational programs. The university states a key strategy is “to forge partnerships between NMSU, local schools and communities to promote life skills acquisition that supports academic performance and work force participation” with four approaches: 1) outreach ... to enhance in-school, and out-of-school time, including after school programs; 2) enhancing core curriculum by working with schools; 3) ensure stronger foundation for youth and community engagement; 4) reach new audiences of underserved youth. With particular emphasis on underserved youth, NMSU plan to provide teachers or classroom volunteers with experiential learning lessons and activities aligned to New Mexico educational standards and benchmarks.

An expansion proposal for this program was not submitted by NMSU to the HED for consideration in Fall 2007. The January 2008 LFC report “Higher Education Department Review of Selected Research and Public Service Projects” discusses best practices for funding these types of projects.

OTHER SUBSTANTIVE ISSUES

The 4-H Youth Development Program emphasizes 35 life skills including: Leadership, responsible citizenship, critical thinking, problem solving, decision-making, conflict resolution, respect for others, and communication. The 4-H program is the largest youth organization in the world with 7 million youth members and 603,000 volunteer leaders. The 4-H program is 95 years old. NMSU notes, in 2006-2007, more than 74,000 of the state’s youth were involved in 4-H. Last year, 5,220 adult 4-H volunteers contributed over 260,000 hours of volunteer service, with a value of $4.7 million.

A report by the Carnegie Council on Adolescent Development found: “Many strengths characterize existing community-based youth development programs. These strengths include tradition, durability, commitment, credibility, diversity, wide-spread support and extensive reach.”

POSSIBLE QUESTIONS

1. How would performance outcomes be measured?
