SUMMARY

Synopsis of Bill

House Memorial 95 expresses support for diverse curricula in New Mexico schools, including specific books that embody the spirit of diversity and acceptance.

This memorial is in response to suspension of the Mexican American Studies program in the Tuscon unified school district, and to the removal of seven books in that subject area of from classrooms to the school district's storage authority.

Copies of the memorial shall be transmitted to the governor of the state of New Mexico, the Public Education Department, and the governor of the state of Arizona.
