SUMMARY

Synopsis of Bill

House Memorial 29 declares January 29, 2014 "New Mexico Food and Farms Day" in the House of Representatives.

FISCAL IMPLICATIONS

No fiscal impact.

SIGNIFICANT ISSUES

New Mexico food and farming culture is significant to the state's rural economy and health of our children. For every dollar that goes into local agricultural producers, one dollar eighty cents is circulated in the local economy and school children reap the health benefits of locally grown fruits and vegetables purchased by their schools.

Increased investment from the legislature enables more schools to feature New Mexican produce and increased support to farmers, farmers markets, and food entrepreneurs is a necessary investment in NM children and the economy.

A copy of HM 29 will be sent to the New Mexico Food and Agriculture Policy Council, the New Mexico Department of Agriculture and the Public Education Department.
